

Schoodic National Scenic Byway

- Icon Key
 S Scenic Recreation H History P Parking R Restroom
- 33 Bunkers Harbor compact harbor just beyond the exit from the Schoodic Park Loop Road. Bunkers Harbor features working fishing boats and piers.
  - 34 Stinson Man Prospect Harbor is home to the last sardine cannery in the United States, being reborn as a lobster processing facility.
  - 35 Prospect Harbor This is the eastern gateway to the Schoodic National Scenic Byway. The village includes a working harbor, lighthouse, cafe and library. The community hosts performances and art events. Information on arts events is at www.schoodicarts.org.
  - 36 Prospect Harbor Point Light The Prospect Harbor Point Light is close at hand and marks the eastern gateway of the Schoodic National Scenic Byway. It began operation in 1850 and rebuilt in 1891. It is currently a Navy facility and is open to the public.
  - 37 Corea Harbor Corea, an iconic Maine fishing village features a dramatic island dotted ocean shoreline, working harbor of lobster boats and the Corea Health, a thousand acres of preserved natural habitat. A friendly, artistic community waiting to be experienced.
  - 38 Sorrento Harbor Sorrento is a scenic coastal village on Route 185 near to the Schoodic Byway. The village offers a sheltered harbor, golf course and scenic views.
  - 39 Down East Sunrise Trail Travel by foot, bike, ATV, ski, snowmobile and horse on the 84 miles Down East Sunrise Trail. The Schoodic trail head is just being built where Route 183, at the Tunk Lake Road crossing in Sullivan. Maps are online at www.sunrisetrail.org.
  - 40 Wonsqueak Harbor Wonsqueak is a tiny harbor just outside of Acadia National Park in Gouldsboro. There is a small turnout where visitors can see a rocky inlet, lobster boats and piers.

- 25 Frazer Point Frazer Point is the gateway to the Schoodic District of Acadia National Park and is a great location for relaxing and recreating. Bring your kayak. Please leash your dog.
- 26 Winter Harbor Light The Winter Harbor Light, or Mark Island Light, was built in 1856, and the keeper's quarters was added in 1876. The light was discontinued in 1933. The property is now private and not open to the public.
- 27 Egg Rock Light Sometimes called the "ugliest lighthouse in Maine", this lighthouse was established in 1875 and was automated in 1976. Can be seen from a distance, but more closely by boat. Not open to the public.
- 28 Schoodic Head Schoodic Head (440 feet) is the highest point on the Schoodic Peninsula. Nestled in Acadia National Park, Schoodic Head is accessible by a gravel road (no RVs or trailers) and several hiking trails that offer spectacular views of the coast and inland Maine.
- 29 Schoodic Education & Research Center The old school house supports environmental research and formal education programs at this former base. Information about SERC is available at the entrance and www.schoodictitle.org.
- 30 Schoodic Point A dramatic experience, particularly when the surf is high. Visitors can wander the granite shore and contemplate the scenic views across Frenchman Bay to Mount Desert Island. Beware of slippery rocks and powerful waves.
- 31 Blueberry Hill Blueberry Hill is a scenic turnout (no RVs or trailers) on the east side of Acadia National Park's Schoodic District. This site is great for walking on the rocky shore and exploring tide pools. It also serves as a halfway for the climb up The Arvil and Schoodic Head.
- 32 Wonsqueak Harbor Wonsqueak is a tiny harbor just outside of Acadia National Park in Gouldsboro. There is a small turnout where visitors can see a rocky inlet, lobster boats and piers.

- 17 West Gouldsboro Features the 1909 Tudor style West Gouldsboro Library and the 1888 Queen Anne style West Gouldsboro Baptist Church. Two historic, architectural sites in one spot!
- 18 Stove Island "The Pilgrim" was built on Stove Island and was later featured in Henry Richard Dand's well known book "Two years before the mast." Visit by boat. The southwester end is open to the public as a quiet place to stroll. Information at www.mthl.org.
- 19 Henry Cove Route 186 arrives in Winter Harbor at Henry Cove. One hundred years ago boat houses were jammed wall to wall here. This scenic location now includes a boat ramp, benches, information kiosks and interpretive materials.
- 20 Winter Harbor Town Dock Just two blocks from town is Winter Harbor's working waterfront. Lobster boats depart early in the morning and return with their catch in the mid-afternoon.
- 21 Winter Harbor Historical Society The old school house was built in 1876 at another location, then moved to accommodate a new hotel. It houses a fascinating collection of artifacts from Winter Harbor's maritime past. Open during the summer on Sat. from 10 AM to 2 PM.
- 22 Hammond Hall Once the Winter Harbor Town Hall, later it was used by the schools as their gym. It is now home to Schoodic Arts for All where many concerts, dances and other arts events are held. Visit www.schoodicarts.org for programs.
- 23 Channing Chapel Built as a Unitarian Chapel. It is now home of the Winter Harbor Public Library. Open Wednesday, Friday and Saturday. Information at www.winterharborlib.me.us.
- 24 Grindstone Neck Private vacation homes, called cottages, were built in late 1890s. The Winter Harbor Yacht Club is home to the oldest racing fleet of sail boats. A picturesque 9 hole golf course is open to public. www.grindstonegolf.com.
- 16 Jones Pond A scenic freshwater pond with a town park and boating access. Visitors come to play in the water, paddle canoes and enjoy quiet picnics.
- 15 Gouldsboro Historical Society The Old Town House Museum at 452 Route 1 is open Saturdays, July-September 14th, 2 PM to 4 PM. For information, call (207)963-2018.
- 14 John Dorthy Grange Built in 1870 by the Memorial park to its current location in 1908. The building is currently used as a resale shop.
- 13 Flanders Bay was once home of the Gibson Hannah Brickyard that baked and shipped bricks to Boston. Water access is available at the end of town Landing Road.
- 12 Long Cove Stop here for a picnic as the tide ebbs to reveal mud flats rich in clams and fishing worms. The shore features rocks etched by glaciers 10,000 years ago.
- 11 Mill Pond Located at the intersection of Route 200 and Route 1, the Cascade House on the Mill Pond opened in 1874 as a general boarding house and tavern. Later it served as a grocery and grain feed store.
- 9 Sullivan Harbor In the 1880s the region began attracting summer visitors and large seasonal hotels like the Waukeag Hotel opened. The Frenchman Bay Steamboat line landed here.

Schoodic Natural

Get close to nature on our rocky shores and piney woods. Join the epic migration to downeast Maine.

Schoodic Cultural

Dine on lobsters, shop for antiques, tour our granite sculptures or join in a traditional contradance. Visit www.schoodicarts.org & www.schoodicbyway.org for event information.

Schoodic Fun!

Kayak calm bays or the rolling ocean, hike to rocky topped mountains, swim in clear ponds or bike the Sunrise Trail. We're open year round for outdoor adventure.

Sponsored in part by:

With funding from the Maine Department of Transportation and the Federal Highway Administration

Schoodic National Scenic Byway

Map and Attractions

For more information visit these websites:
www.schoodicbyway.org
www.byways.org

Schoodic National Scenic Byway

Designated as a National Scenic Byway in June of 2000, the Schoodic byway weaves through 27 miles of outstanding scenery, which includes a reversing tidal falls, lighthouses, historic architecture, the Schoodic District of Acadia National Park, working lobster boats, clam diggers, antique shops, and many other unique sites—not to mention breathtaking views of the ocean, Cadillac Mountain, and Frenchman Bay.

Places of Interest

- 1 Taunton Bay Gateway to the Schoodic Byway. This was the location of the Waukeag Rail Station from 1898 to 1920. This site overlooks Taunton Bay, a rich ecosystem with plentiful wildlife. Start your byway adventure here.
- 2 Tidal Falls Picnic area is the site of an historic lobster pound. Watch the tide rush in and out. There is a pavilion and two newly installed iron grills. This site is maintained by the Frenchman Bay Conservancy. Details at www.frenchmanbay.org.
- 3 Gordon's Wharf Once a site for shipping large blocks of Sullivan Granite to Boston, the wharf is being renovated to include a small boat launch, interpretive information, ecological education and more.
- 4 Sumner Memorial Park The Sullivan community gathering place for special events, includes open meadow, band stand, veterans' memorial and granite sculpture.
- 5 Sullivan Historical Society Located in the Sullivan Recreation Center, houses a collection of historic photographs, tools, clothes and other memorabilia. A great place to learn about this historic region. A skate board park and playground are in back.
- 6 Preble Cove Offers a quick view of water, clam flats and bird life. The Schoodic National Scenic Byway assisted in preserving this scenic view. There is no stopping here, so enjoy it as you pass.
- 7 Sullivan Town Office Built as the region's first high school in 1910 serving surrounding communities. Visit here to purchase books on Sullivan's history.
- 8 Frenchman Bay The Frenchman Bay Scenic Turnout offers visitors spectacular views across the bay to Mount Desert Island and Acadia National Park. Interpretive information describes regional history, fishing practices and recreational opportunities.